Equestrian action lined up for Land Rover Durban Highgoal Polocrosse Event

The inaugural Land Rover Durban Highgoal will bring spectacular equestrian action to the Durban Shongweni Club from 27 to 29 May where the country's top polocrosse players are sure to deliver some of the best action and excitement this growing sport has to offer.

"This fast-paced, high intensity sport is such a treat for both spectators and players alike, and the highgoal is the pinnacle of the polocrosse calendar," said event organiser and Shongweni Polocrosse club chairman, Brent Von Benecke. "We are so excited to be bringing this level of polocrosse to KwaZulu-Natal and look forward to this becoming an annual fixture at Shongweni, KZN's premiere equestrian club."

There will be eight teams competing for the top spot – four men's and four ladies' teams – consisting of six quality players each. Each competitor in polocrosse is given a handicap which indicates his or her skill level, ranging from 0 to 10 with 10 being one of the best in the world and 0 a beginner.

As this is a highgoal tournament, the combined handicaps of the six teammates must average between 42 and 45 (out of a possible 60), which means that the teams are of World Cup-level quality. As well as being principal sponsors of the event, Land Rover Durban is also sponsoring two of the participating teams; Land Rover Durban - Team Evoque (ladies' team) and Land Rover Durban Men: Aubrey Strauss (men's team).

Team Evoque is captained by Jean Hackland from Bishopstowe, one of the members of the 2015 World Cup winning team with a six-goal handicap. Also on the team is Emma Hall, a four handicap from Gauteng who plays for Walkerville; Albie Kamffer, a three handicap from North West Province of the Huhudi Club; Camilla Harris, a three handicap from the Cape; Elri van der Merwe, a five handicap from Mpumalanga who plays for Bethal and has previously made the SA Junior teams and SA Ladies' side as well as Karen Cocker, a four handicap who plays for Shongweni Club and has represented South Africa and Zimbabwe.

Of the six Land Rover Durban Men's team members, five have an incredible eight handicap.

The team captain is Gavin Cocker who has captained the South African side for the past decade. Cocker is joined by Andrew Heynes, the reserve for the World Cup 2015 with an eight handicap. Heynes has also played on numerous international teams. Richmond player, Scott Hosking, as well as Australian players Lance Anderson and Beau Moore, also have an eight handicap. Swatberg's Shaun Gilson, who has a four handicap, has played through the ranks at a junior level.

The Land Rover Durban Highgoal sees polocrosse action every day from 8am to 4.30pm with six to seven games per day. Each game will be divided into six-minute chukkas with the men's and women's team alternating. The format ensures a fast-paced, action-packed game, entertaining for even the novice spectator. There will be a number of vendors on the outskirts, jumping castles for the children as well as evening entertainment for those wishing to stay after the polocrosse action.

Nedbank SA Disabled Golf Open

KwaZulu-Natal's Jabu Price Moore out-gunned regular Nedbank SA Disabled Golf Open competitors to win the Les Autres ISP Division on his debut at the Zwartkop Country Club in Centurion. The 16-year-old Pietermaritzburg youth carded rounds of 37, 34 and 30 to edge out Free Stater Enrique van Wyk by one point with a winning total of 101 points.

Moore joined the First Swing Programme at the South African Disabled Golf Association last year and already competes off a 20 handicap out of Underberg Golf Club. The Michaelhouse scholar excels at diving and scuba diving is a keen cricketer and also plays hockey.

Morgan backs talented 2016/17 Dolphins squad

New head coach Grant Morgan is looking forward to instilling his fresh philosophy in the Sunfoil Dolphins squad of 2016/17 and taking the Durban franchise forward with the talented crop of players that now have a wealth of experience within it.

As reported previously, the like of Cricket South Africa contracted players Kyle Abbott and David Miller have left the Dolphins and will continue their career at the Warriors and VKB Knights respectively however Morgan backs the talent that remains wholeheartedly.

"It is a bit of blow to lose players like Kyle (Abbott) and David (Miller) however there is a huge amount of talent still left here at the Dolphins!" says Morgan passionately. "There is no doubt that a very competitive Dolphins team will still represent the Dolphins in all formats come the start of the new season," he adds.

Morgan is also confident the strength of the province's two Provincial squads – KwaZulu-Natal and KZN Inland – during the 2015/16 season will help create a healthy competition for places in the Dolphins mix come the new season. "Inland having performed extremely well this past season and KZN having done nicely, outside of the 50 overs competition, has also meant that there are guys waiting in the wings who are hungry to play franchise cricket. You never want to lose anyone – they're like family; their blood is Dolphins green – but at the same time, their departure gives some other guys a massive opportunity to show what they can do at Franchise level."

The conclusion of the South African domestic 2015/16 season saw Mat Pillans join Surrey in England, Thandi Tshabalala retired from the game, both Daniel Sincuba and Jonathan Vandiar joined The Unlimited Titans while Ryan McLaren – no longer a CSA contracted player – has opted not to sign a contract with any South African Franchise for the 2016/17 season. Former KwaZulu-Natal semi-professional contracted players Khalipha Cele (Free State) and Craig Kirsten also won't be part of the Sunfoil Dolphins and KZN mix next season while Ayavuya Myoli – previously uncontracted but who played much of the RAM Slam T20 Challenge for the Dolphins – has signed with the bizhub Highveld Lions.

Mthokozisi Shezi's return to Durban on a permanent basis, having re-joined the Dolphins on a loan from the Cape Cobras during the second half of the 2016/17 season, is a pleasing one while exciting talents Sibonelo Makhanya, Sarel Erwee and Tshepang Dithole have all earned Franchise contracts for the first time. The Dolphins don't have any reason to believe that Imran Tahir won't turn out for them in 2016/17 however confirmation of this is only expected in the near future due to the world class leg-spinner yet to sign his CSA contract. Rabian Engelbrecht, Senuran Muthusamy, Brandon Scullard and Mishkal Ramsaroop have retained their KwaZulu-Natal semi-professional contracts and are joined by newcomers Smangaliso Nhlebelo and Okuhle Cele with the KZN Cricket Union set to finalise negotiations with a seventh player shortly.

The evergreen Kyle Nipper, together with Graham Hume, Ruhan Pretorius, Lefa Mosena, Attie Maposa, Kushen Kishun and Cyril Mthimkhulu, has been granted a KZN Inland semi-professional contract for 2016/17.

Sunfoil Dolphins squad:

Craig Alexander, Cody Chetty, Cameron Delport, Tshepang Dithole, Daryn Dupavillon, Sarel Erwee, Robbie Frylinck, Imraan Khan, Keshav Maharaj, Sibonelo Makhanya, Andile Phehlukwayo, Calvin Savage, Mthokozisi Shezi, Daryn Smit, Prenelan Subrayen, Vaughn van Jaarsveld, Divan van Wyk, Morné van Wyk, Khaya Zondo

KwaZulu-Natal semi-professionals:

Okuhle Cele, Rabian Engelbrecht, Senuran Muthusamy, Smangaliso Nhlebelo, Mishkal Ramsaroop, Brandon Scullard

KZN Inland semi-professionals:

Graham Hume, Kushen Kishun, Attie Maposa, Lefa Mosena, Cyril Mthimkhulu, Kyle Nipper, Ruhan Pretorius

Major Benefits to be Reaped from Sanlam CT Marathon

While the road running and general sporting fraternity stand to benefit greatly from the 2016 Sanlam Cape Town Marathon, local communities and sectors of society are again also expected to receive major boosts through the success of the annual event. As the only standard marathon race in Africa to be awarded IAAF Silver Label status, organisers, partners and stakeholders will again use the annual Spring weekend road running festival to make a difference beyond the world of sport. Figures from last year's event offer an indication of its lengthy reach, as race organisers work towards long-term goals in an effort to bridge the gap between the Sanlam Cape Town Marathon and the world's most popular road races:

Participatory numbers have climbed by over 35% year-on-year. Runners represented 51 different countries, with 4.5% of the entrants coming from outside South Africa and over 30% of the entrants coming from outside the Western Cape. The IAAF Gold Status elite field in 2015 consisted of 18 elite international athletes from six countries, with another 20 local elite athletes given a rare opportunity to race within a professional elite field on home soil. Over R700,000 was raised for charities 4 Spectator Zones were introduced where spectators were able to witness the race. The success of the event indicates it has the potential to become one of the world's must-run City Marathons, and by doing so it will join other races in making a significant difference to people throughout their respective host cities.

The potential impact is enormous, as has been revealed by other road races in recent years:

- In 2013, the Gold Coast Airport Marathon in Australia attracted 28 000 participants, generating more than 63 000 visitor nights for the Queensland region, with the local government using the event as part of its commitment to increase annual overnight visitor expenditure to R350 billion by 2020
- In 2014, organisers of the New York Marathon, a World Marathon Majors race, released a report revealing the event had attracted over one million spectators and runners, generating R6.4 billion for the host city and significantly boosting tourism, tax revenues and the economy
- Last year, the Tamarack Ottawa Race Weekend in Canada, a Silver Label event which is also centred around a standard marathon, attracted 49 439 participants, which resulted in R402 million in economic activity for the Province of Ontario

Having sent a team to observe the organisation of the prestigious London Marathon in April, the Sanlam Cape Town Marathon Executive Committee is aiming to capitalise on this valuable learning experience by taking further steps to grow the success and popularity of the event, they hope to increase their contribution to various sectors and the economy.

The weekend festival, held over two days with the marathon race taking centre stage on the Sunday, will again consist of a variety of options for participants:

- Sanlam Cape Town Marathon (42.2km)
- Sanlam Cape Town 10km PEACE Run/Walk
- Sanlam Cape Town 4.2km Fun Run
- Sanlam Cape Town Peace Trail Runs (12km and 22km)

Entries for the 2016 race have opened. For more details, potential participants can visit www.capetownmarathon.com

Dolphins Spin Twins in India

Sunfoil Dolphins spinners Keshav Maharaj and Prenelan Subrayen are relishing the opportunity afforded to them by Cricket South Africa after being named as part of a 14-man squad of emerging spinners and batsmen that are attending a camp in Mumbai, India which started on the 14th and ends on the 21st. Dane Piedt and George Linde (both Cape Cobras), Simon Harmer (Warriors), Aaron Phangiso and Bjorn Fortuin (both bizhub Highveld Lions) and Tshepo Ntuli (VKB Knights) are the other spinners on the trip.

On the batting front, emerging national and franchise batsmen Temba Bavuma (bizhub Highveld Lions), Stiaan van Zyl and Dane Vilas (both Cape Cobras) as well as Reeza Hendricks (VKB Knights) are honing their game in sub-continental conditions working closely with former Indian domestic batting sensation Amol Muzumdar.

The camp also comes as an opportunity for KwaZulu-Natal's Smangaliso Nhlebelo to experience India for the first time in his career after he and Limpopo's Hector Ngobeni were selected for the trip on the back of their performances for their respective Franchise Academies.

The group is accompanied by CSA batting consultant, HD Ackerman and CSA spin bowling consultant, Claude Henderson.

De Vries and Maree Win Vans Surf Pro Classic Titles

Beyrick de Vries (uMhlanga) and Jordy Maree (Kalk Bay) clinched the men's and junior men's titles at the Vans Surf Pro Classic which was completed in epic 1.0 to 1.3 metre waves and ideal conditions at YoYo's in Lamberts Bay on Sunday. The first World Surf league (WSL) events to be run north of Cape Town on the West coast of South Africa, the Vans Surf Pro Classic showcased the country's best men and junior surfers as they chased a total prize-purse of R50 000 and invaluable points on the Qualifying Series and WSL Africa regional rankings.

The Final of the QS1, 000 rated men's event saw Beyrick De Vries (uMhlanga) and Michael February (Kommetjie) go head to head in a spectacular high-flying air show. With a light crosswind blowing perfectly into the rights, both surfers punted manoeuvres above the lip on virtually every ride and each ended up counting a pair of eight-point scores. It was de Vries' rides that impressed the judges more though, and he earned his first QS event title along with R12 000 in prize-money and 1,000 points when his 8.67 and 8.47 left him a slim 0.40 of a point ahead of February's 8.23 and 8.07.

His points haul moved de Vries into the top 100 on the QS ranking after just two events this year, while February's 750 points saw him jump into the top 30.

Vans Surf Pro Classic Final Results:

- 1. Beyrick de Vries (uMhlanga) 1,000 pts R12, 000
- 2. Michael February (Kommetjie) 750 pts R6, 000

Vans Surf Pro Classic Junior Final Results

- 1. Jordy Maree (Kalk Bay) 1,000 pts R8,000
- 2. Jake Elkington (Kommetjie) 750 pts R4, 000
- 3. Adin Masencamp (Strand) 560 pts R2, 500
- 4. Max Elkington (Kommetjie) 525 pts R2, 000

Bizhub Highveld Lions and GCB Awards

The Gauteng Cricket Board (GCB) and bizhub Highveld Lions hosted the biggest ever joint awards function at the Wanderers Club . The event has grown in the past few years to include over and above the very important club level also other parts of the cricket pipeline and the bizhub Highveld Lions. Thabang Moroe, GCB President and bizhub Highveld Lions Chairman, values this event. "This evening annually gives us the opportunity to celebrate exceptional performances of all involved with the administration of the sport under these two bodies," Moroe said.

Moroe also congratulated the awards recipients: "Each award is testament to hard work, many hours and a clear determination to succeed. A special thank you to the supporters and participants of our Amateur cricket section of the evening. We need this leg of our company to be as healthy as possible to ensure the future of the GCB."

Greg Fredericks, GCB and bizhub Highveld Lions Chief Executive Officer, sees this as a highlight on the event calendar. "I get the feeling that the GCB, Bidvest Wanderers and bizhub Highveld Lions have experienced a somewhat 'Golden Season' in the progress that we have made both on the field and off".

"These milestones should be celebrated and the gathering of players, administrators, coaches and supporters is the perfect opportunity to do so," Fredericks commented.
